PROOF SETS.

All of the following are as received from the mint, have never been handled, and are unblemished; some few pieces will be found discolored, probably from the effect of chlorine used in bleaching the paper in which they are inclosed. This discoloration can be removed with little trouble by dipping the coins in a strong solution of Cyanide of Potassium, removing instantly and washing in running water, then drying in boxwood saw dust. This process will not injure the finest proof.

Cyanide of Potassium is one of the most deadly of all known poisons, and the solution should be thrown away as soon as used.

COINS AND MEDALS,

Also in Bric-a-Brac, Rare Books, and Pre-Historic Relics,

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN.

Wanted Collections of all the above objects. Will purchase for cash, at liberal prices, any collection large or small. Wanted particularly Stone Implements of the rarer forms: Discoidal Stones, Banner Stones, Gorgets, Tablets, Pipes, Amulets, Tubes, Flint implements of unusual size and workmanship: all objects, Mullers, Plumb Bobs, Celts, Axes, Arrow and Spear points of Red Hematite, also all implements such as Knives, Chisels, Gouges, Axes, etc., of native copper.

Wanted consignments of any of the above classes of property for public or private sale, and liberal Cash advances will be made on the same if required.

Sales of Cabinets and Libraries for Estates and Administrators, Executors, and Trustees, a specialty.

Of this Catalogue (The Dohrmann Collection), fifty copies have been printed on heavy tinted paper, sewed, and illustrated with four elegant Heliotype plates of some of the finest and most remarkable coins in the collection as may be seen by references in the catalogue. As soon after the sale as possible they will be neatly priced in ink and sent to order at $2 each.

The labor of pricing is so great that some delay must of necessity occur, but all possible dispatch will be made and they will be forwarded as fast as ready, in accordance with the rule, "first come, first served." Fifty copies have also been printed with the illustrations and will probably be ready for delivery on the 17th of February—a copy will be promptly forwarded to order on receipt of one dollar.

☞ To secure copies of the thick paper, illustrated Catalogue, early orders will be necessary, as the edition is strictly limited to fifty copies, the most of which are required to fill standing orders.

A SPECIAL REQUEST.

Correspondents who may favor me with their orders for the sale, are earnestly requested to address me at Roxbury, so that their letters may reach me by Friday, March second, at the latest, thus enabling me to have their orders properly entered in my book before leaving home. This is a matter of some importance, as I usually receive for each sale more than one hundred letters, and in several instances my orders have aggregated nearly four thousand, the letters containing from one, to several hundreds, each.

All letters which will not reach me at home by the time named, should be addressed care of Messrs. Bangs & Co., 739–741, Broadway, New York City.
